FIRE CONDITIONS ARE BAD AT MANY PLACES ALONG BEACH STREET

Almost from the opening bell of the formal opening of the Clarendon hotel, the fire alarm sounded. The alarm was not a false one, as it was in fact one of the most serious of the season. The fire was located in the building known as the Clarendon hotel, and it was a very serious one. The fire was caused by a short circuit in the wiring of the building, and it was a very serious one. HUNDREDS ATTEND FORMAL OPENING OF HOTEL CLARENDON

ONE OF LEADING SOCIAL EVENTS
OF THE SEASON

Always has the opening ball at the Hotel Clarendon marked the beginning of the social season for visitors as well as residents of Daytona and vicinity, but never has it been more brilliant and gay than on Saturday evening when over four hundred people partook of dinner and enjoyed the dancing at this beautiful hostelry.

Formally was it opened at noon when the salute of guns, thirteen in number resounded, followed by musical numbers by the hotel orchestra seated upon the lawn.

The hotel is more attractive than ever this year, having been thoroughly redecorated, emphasizing more fully its elegance and artistic beauty.

Promptly at 6:30 dinner was served in the hotel dining room, while a number of parties were entertained in the hotel grill. Tempting viands were served with the usual splendid service for which the hotel is far famed. One of the splendid management of E. L. Potter and his able assistant, C. J. Scott.

Dancing was inaugurated at nine to the scintillating melody of Harry A. Becker's orchestra, continuing until midnight.

Wonderful were the gowns worn by the ladies fair, and it would seem that Paris had stepped in and taken possession of the prevailing modes, with the touch of the American. Mrs. R. L. Potter wore daybreak yellow satin and pearls. Mrs. M. L. Stanley was gowned in black lace over white satin. Mrs. Wilkinson. Black net over satin, diamonds. Mrs. William H. Davis black net over white taffeta. Miss Davis, black embroidered net in silver over white silk. Mrs. Nathaniel C. Sears, shell pink charmeuse tulle, princess lace. Mrs. Arthur W. Blake, pale blue charmeuse with rose garlands. Mrs. Harry C. Thompson, rainbow-hued net over shell pink silk. Mrs. F. J. Walter, black silk with rose trimmings. Mrs. Alvire Milligan, black net over white taffeta. Mrs. Elmer Kipp, pale blue satin, white marabout bandings. Mrs. Jerome D. Maley, golden brown tulle over apricot taffeta. ACCUMULATION OF TRASH AT
REAR OF BUILDINGS A MENACE
SAYS CHIEF OF FIRE DEPART-MENT.

Fire Chief W. E. French, when making a tour of inspection along the principal business blocks of Beach street the latter part of last week, on which he was accompanied by a representative of the News, found the conditions very unsatisfactory in many instances.

Out of about 70 places visited, 42 were found to be in from fair to good condition in regard to the premises at the rear of the buildings while the remainder were in bad in varying degrees, being littered with loose paper and trash of different kinds and with empty boxes and barrels.

While not confined to any one class of business, the accumulation of inflammable material is in most instances more evident where goods are received in boxes and barrels which are relieved of their contents and then piled up at the rear of the stores and left there indefinitely.

Some of the business people were inclined to resent Chief French's criticism of their back yards, but, as he says, it is their risk, not his, only in their neglect they are also endangering their neighbors who in some cases are more careful than they. The fact that the chief is "on the job" is really a matter of congratulation and the business man or resident who has become neglectful of both his own and his neighbors' interests in this respect should thank Chief French for his reminder.

The chief will make another tour of inspection over this territory in the near future and proposes to provide himself with a camera and make pictures of such places as have not been cleaned up, thus securing irrefutable evidence of their bad condition.

It isn't the biggest advertisement that gets the most business, but it is the advertisement that says something worth knowing about goods that are worth buying.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS RE-OPENED TODAY

All branches of the public schools of Daytona reopened this morning after a very enjoyable holiday of two weeks which extended through Christmas and New Year, with a large attendance of students.

SMITH'S BOTTLING WORKS ON NORTH BEACH STREET

Smith's Bottling Works has been removed from its location at the rear of the Cleveland hotel to more commodious quarters at 443 North Beach street, where the genial proprietor, W. C. Smith, will be glad to welcome friends and visitors and says he will always have a cold bottle ready for their refreshment.

HOTEL ORMOND OPENS TODAY

Today at dinner marks the opening of the Hotel Ormond with an outlook of the most encouraging and promising season that it has ever enjoyed. Manager D. J. Trudeau says that the reservations are greater than ever before, and a perusal of the bookings indicates the returning of a great many of the hotel's regular clientele. There is little or no change in the heads of the various departments of the hotel, which doubly assures the continuance of the unsurpassed service and painstaking care of the guests.

With a few exceptions the hotel cottages have been rented for the season. "Talahloko" the larger of the villas, has been rented by Mrs. W. F. Stanley of Chicago, who has been coming to Ormond for several seasons.

Many of Daytona's visitors and residents will journey to Ormond this evening to enjoy the hospitality and festivities of the opening.

TRAINS AGAIN HELD UP BY FREIGHT WRECK

ACCIDENT OCCURRED THIS TIME
IN VICINITY OF WABASSO,
EARLY SUNDAY MORNING —
TRACK BADLY TORN UP.

Trains on the Flagler system, which had scarcely regained the regular schedule after the delays caused by a freight wreck or derailment at Hastings Wednesday night were again thrown into confusion Sunday by another freight wreck in the early hours of that day in the vicinity of Wabasso. Train No. 88 was annulled and No. 86, due here at 9:41 a. m., north-bound, arrived in the middle of the afternoon, passengers having been transferred at the scene of the accident. Passengers from this train stated that the wreck was apparently caused by the falling of a brake beam which tore up the track for a distance of about a mile and then piled up six or seven freight cars in a heap. As far as could be learned no one was injured in this wreck, as was also the case in the one near Hastings. In this respect the Flagler system has been exceptionally fortunate.

CUBA'S SUIT ON BONDS WAS DISMISSED TODAY

(The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Cuba's suit against the state of North Carolina in an effort to collect more than two million dollars on railroad bonds issued during the reconstruction days, was dismissed today. The bonds had been repudiated.

THE DOWNING SHOP WILL OPEN LAST OF THIS WEEK

Downing's will open the latter part of this week with a full line of women's millinery. Work on renovating the store room started this morning and as the stock has already reached Daytona there should be little delay. They will occupy their former location on South Beach street.

TUMULTY DENIES ANY KNOWLEDGE OF NOTE

(The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A denial that he gave anyone advance information regarding President Wilson's peace note or had discussed the peace note or other notes with anyone engaged in stock market dealings, was made by Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty in a statement at the "leak" hearing today. He declared that he did not know the note existed or was contemplated until after it was given to the press. The statement was endorsed by the president.

Tumulty declared that he had never taken meals with Bernard Baruch. The "A. Curtis" letter to Representative Wood said he had been told that Tumulty lunched with Baruch in New York just before the note was sent to the belligerents.

Tumulty also said that no one in the executive offices knew of the conferences between the president and Secretary Lansing. He said that he had attempted unsuccessfully to ascertain how a leak could have occurred.

Secretary Lansing told the committee that A. R. Snowden, of New York; R. Gaylor, a navy civil engineer, and Dr. M. T. McLean, of the navy, were present without his knowledge when he told the newspaper men that the note had been sent. The three were waiting to see him. He said that all this statements to the newspaper men were negative and that he told them the note was not a peace proposal or an offer of mediation. Lansing said the note had been closely guarded in the state department.

Thomas W. Lawson, who gave his occupation as that of a farmer, declared that he intended testifying regarding the damnable condition which had existed for two years for the purpose of finding a remedy for the condition which caused hundreds of thousands of persons to be driven to enormous losses.

Lawson threw the hearing into an uproar after half an hour when he became enraged at interruption by Representative Chipmunk. He declared he "proposed to say all he had to say regardless of consequences." He was pulled back into the witness chair by Jerry South, clerk of the house.

Lawson declared there had been many leaks of information that effected the stock market. He asserted that within two years the American people had been robbed of thirty or forty billion dollars. He said he knew who was responsible for the leak and that the ones who are actually responsible had been trying to make him the "goat."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLaren, of St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada, regular season guests at the Magnolia hotel, are again at that hostelry for the season, having arrived Saturday evening, accompanied by two nurses, the Misses Roberts and Kavanagh.

FILM ARMY HELPS TO GUARD COUNTRY

CALIFORNIA BATTERIES USED IN "THE FALL OF A NATION" WERE MOBILIZED FOR SERVICE ON THE RIO GRANDE.

"The Fall of a Nation," Thomas Dixon and Victor Herbert's patriotic spectacle, is doing more than spread the propaganda of national defense; it actually contributed men to the forces of the Mexican border. "The Fall of a Nation" was shown for the first time in Los Angeles on June 19, 1916. Members of two California batteries were present as guests of Mr. Dixon, in appreciation of their work during the filming of the battle scenes last winter. Before the end of the performance orders had been received from the war department, transmitted by Governor Johnson, and the batteries left the theater to entrain for the Mexican border where they helped defend the country against bandit invasion for many months.

Several hundred men used as supernumeraries in the screen fighting quickly enlisted. Because of their experience in the battle scenes they were assigned to the first regiments that would go to the front. These men all received from "The Fall of a Nation" two months of actual military training with full pay. They worked under the direction of a retired army officer and for the entire time were members of a camp run on strict military principles. When they were mustered out with full pay they had considerably more than a rudimentary knowledge of the science of war. "The Fall of a Nation" will be the attraction at the New Daytona theater tomorrow, matinee and night, and also Wednesday.

VILLAGE DUNCE GIVEN TRUE CHARACTERIZATION

The role of Huddy Bryson, a half-witted country boy, of Marlow, in the Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature, "The Ninety and Nine," which was directed by Ralph W. Ince and features William Courtenay and Lucille Lee Stewart and which is the attraction at the Crystal theatre today, is played by William Lytell, Jr.

Mr. Lytell has made this role in which he is supposed to be in love with sweet Ruth Blake, played by Miss Stewart, a living one. Mingled with the sympathy which his audience feels for his misfortune comes the anger at his continual spying upon others in the story.

His panic upon discovering the forest on fire when he shrieks, "The trees, the grass—the whole world is on fire!" is done with an artist's touch and his characterization makes a strong grip on the audience.

Mr. Lytell has played other roles for the Vitaphone company, but this part seems particularly well adapted to his capabilities.

Many will remember the long run which this story by Ramsey Morris experienced on the legitimate stage with such success.

"THE DUMB GIRL OF PORTICI" AT NEW DAYTONA THEATRE

"Pavlova," the incomparable, pronounced by the world's leading critics the most wonderful emotional actress of the decade in "The Dumb Girl of Portici," the most lavish production ever filmed in the entire history of moving pictures, a weird, wild and wonderful spectacle staged at a cost exceeding a quarter of a million dollars.

This feature will be shown at the New Daytona theatre, Saturday, Jan. 13.

Optimistic Thought.
If angels ever condescend to walk
this earth it is when clad in the form of good mothers.

Don't Lean on Your Elbows.
When the writer was a little girl her mother used to warn her constantly against leaning on her elbows. "You will have rough elbows like the gossips who have nothing to do but lean out of their windows and watch their neighbors," she would cry, and then the small daughter would examine her little fat arms anxiously, twisting herself painfully in the effort to be assured that her elbows did not betray her in so unmistakable a fashion. I wonder how many would remember that nowadays when the habit of leaning on the elbows, "restaurant fashion," has become so universal that it is almost impossible to teach the children to sit properly at table because of the example set them by their elders? Pretty elbows are the exception rather than the rule in most cases, and it does indeed take little to roughen and disfigure them. A round elbow is not necessarily a point of beauty, as it indicates a tendency to embonpoint if there is too much flesh about the bone.

W. M. SHAFFNER PASSES AWAY AT HIS DAYTONA BEACH HOME

AFTER TWENTY YEARS RESIDENCE IN DAYTONA AND VICINITY COL. SCHAFFNER SUCCEUMS TO LONG ILLNESS.

Col. William Marshall Schaffner died yesterday, aged 68 years, at his home on the corner of Ocean avenue and Duke street, Daytona Beach, after a long illness.

Twenty years ago the late Col. and Mrs. Schaffner came to Daytona and have since that time made their home here. The late colonel was engaged in the real estate and insurance business and had an office on South Beach street for many years. They have had for a greater part of the time, two residences, one on North Ridgewood avenue and a cottage on the ocean front at Daytona Beach. More than a year ago a permanent residence was built at Daytona Beach which they have since occupied during the colonel's illness.

During his Daytona years, he made numerous friends and admirers in both his business and social life. These many friends are united in their grief and in sympathy with Mrs. Schaffner in her bereavement.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30, at St. Mary's Episcopal church on the corner of South Ridgewood and Orange avenue, and interment will take place at Pinewood cemetery.

The late Col. Schaffner was the son of Tallaferrero Preston Schaffner and Annie (Pratt) Schaffner and was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1848. His father was a prominent southern statesman, who was one of the men to assist Samuel P. B. Morse in laying the first Atlantic cable. His mother was a Massachusetts girl of fine New England parentage.

He received his education in France, England and Germany, living on the Continent and in England until he was 25. During his European years he made many friends and acquaintances among the literary people and other notables of that time. He spent much time also in Denmark and Russia. The late colonel received his title from King Christian IX., of Denmark for meritorious conduct on the battlefield.

On returning to the United States and for years afterwards, the late Col. Schaffner was closely identified with the state of Kentucky in its rapid growth and progress after the Civil war. At one time he was a member of the governor's staff and held other positions of honor at various times.

On December 24, 1883, he was united in marriage to Miss Anne Jane Graham, at St. Louis, Mo. He has no close surviving relatives.

When Cleaning Windows.
Use strong soda water with plenty of soap for cleaning windows. Rinse freely. Finish off with a succession of warm, dry cloths.

WINTER RESIDENT DIED THIS MORNING

J. E. Purdy, better known as "Popcorn Jim," of Pen-Mar, Pa., a winter resident of Daytona Beach living at the Sweeney apartments on Harvey street, died early this morning, from a sudden attack of apoplexy which occurred Saturday night at about 6:00. The late Mr. Purdy had been spending his winters here for the past four seasons, and has always been a great fisherman, spending much of his time fishing in the ocean or river. He enjoyed good health up to the time of his sudden illness.

Mr. Purdy was 55 years of age and has for years conducted a store in the mountains of Pennsylvania at Pen-Mar, where he became known as "Popcorn Jim," to his many friends. Pen-Mar is one of the most beautiful summer resorts in that part of the country and from the excellent business enjoyed during the summer months, Mr. Purdy became well-to-do and was thus enabled to spend his winters in the south.

His former home was in Flint, Mich., and the remains will be kept here in the Bingham & Maley vault until spring, when Mrs. Purdy will accompany them north.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the undertaking parlors of the Bingham & Maley company, South Beach street, Daytona.

GOOD CROWD HEARS FORUM

ADDRESS OF E. B. PATTERSON
About 300 people heard the address of E. B. Patterson on the question of "America's Military Preparedness" yesterday morning, at the Christian Forum of the Daytona Beach Methodist church. The speaker presented the question from its varied sides and after his address answered all questions from the members of the audience desiring further explanations.

The church was completely filled to its capacity of 600 people at both morning and evening church services. The fine music by the choir was one attraction which proved to be very fine.

Uncle Eben.
"De man dat kin own up dat he needs advice," said Uncle Eben, "is mighty liable to have sense enough to think it up fob hisse f."

Would Consider.

A sporting member of parliament, who knew more about the race course than the house, was once asked, out of pure mischief, by one of his constituents if he would vote for the abolition of the decalogue. In vain the questioned one tried to solve in his mind what the object referred to was, as to him the decalogue might be anything from a regium donum grant to a settlement in the Straits of Malacca; but failing in this, and in order to sustain his own consistency, he replied: "I won't pledge myself, but I'll give it my consideration."

DAYTONA BEACH

Don McDonald, of Sanford spent the week-end at the beach visiting with friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Hiram Hunt and party are expected to arrive this afternoon from their home in Maine to spend the remainder of the winter at their home on Goodall avenue, Marshall Park.

J. M. Canfield and family, of Philadelphia, Pa., recently arrived from the north and are occupying the home of Mrs. Rhoda Manning, on the river front, Daytona Beach.

Miss Eunice Ramsey returned early this morning from a week's visit to the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Little, in Miami and has again taken up her work as instructor of music in the Seabreeze-Daytona Beach school.

Rev. J. M. Mclear and family of Athens, Tenn., came in Saturday and are now occupying one of the Vining apartments on Harvey street. Rev. Mclear is the editor of the Methodist Advocate Journal, a well known religious paper of Athens.

R. L. Graham of Lima, O., has rented the B. W. Boyd cottage on Hollywood avenue for the remainder of the month through the agency of J. E. D. Graves. Mr. Graham is a close friend of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hall, who are now spending the winter at their small cottage on Palmetto street.

Miss M. E. Bentley, of St. Augustine, arrived Saturday to spend a few pleasant weeks at the beach. Miss Bentley has leased her home in the Ancient City, and is spending the winter in visiting other East Coast cities. She is located at the Pinehurst at present and is much pleased with the beauty of this vicinity. Miss Bentley has not been here for fifteen years and was very much surprised to see the remarkable amount of change that has taken place.

Charles Wright of Bristol, Tenn., who has been visiting with his parents and family at their river front home in Palm place, will leave tomorrow for the Mercersburg Preparatory school at Mercersburg, Pa., where he is now completing his education. Young Mr. Wright was a student at Seabreeze high school last winter and has many friends on the peninsula who wish him good success in his school work.

SEABREEZE

Miss Sarah Chase, who is attending Stetson university, visited friends here during the week-end.

The friends of Thurman Stout, a West Virginia boy, who lived in the Maryland cottage on Earl street two seasons ago with his parents and family, will be pleased to know that he is attending the Kiskiminetas preparatory school, in Pennsylvania.

D. S. Mauck, who has been quite ill for several weeks at his home in the Chautauqua apartments on the corner of Duke street and Grandview avenue, is now recovering. He will not be able to take up his work in the Beach grocery for some time, however.

Giving Cheese Age.
By treating freshly made cheese with alternating currents of electricity for 24 hours a Dutch electrician has found he can give it all the properties of age.

Use for Epsom Salts.
Epsom salts has been found by many to be excellent for setting the color of a delicate fabric. Just add a teaspoonful to each gallon of water and your garments, even those made of serge and other woollen materials, will wash easily without losing their color.

TWO LARGE YACHTS ON THEIR WAY SOUTH

SANTANTA, OF NEW YORK, ARRIVES SUNDAY MORNING AND SWORDFISH, OF BOSTON, VISITS CITY TODAY.

The Swordfish, a yacht with 132 tons displacement, owned by Schuyler Schieffelin, a well known financier, 170 Williams street, New York City, came to the city dock this morning for a few hours. The owner and party are aboard and are bound for southern waters.

The Swordfish is the largest yacht that has touched here since the completion of the new canal from the Daytona shore to the main channel. The boat is 123 feet long, 17½ feet wide, and draws a little more than three feet of water. She was designed by Tams, Lemoine and Crane, and launched at Nyack, N. Y., by Samuel Ayers and son in 1901. She has two six-cylinder 6x8 Standard engines. This boat has had many different owners and has visited Florida waters in former years.

Another large yacht which passed through the four drawbridges Sunday morning on its way south was the Santanta, of Boston, with the owner, Osborne Howes, on board. This boat has 103 tons displacement, is 90x18½ and draws three and a half feet. She was launched in 1912 at Neponset, Mass.

Both the Swordfish and the Santanta have crews of between eight and fifteen men and have excellent accommodations for large cruising parties.

TOTAL MOON ECLIPSE OCCURED LAST NIGHT

A total eclipse of the moon, visible throughout the United States and the first of seven eclipses to occur during the present year, began late last night at 11:50. At that hour the moon first came in contact with the earth's shadow and at 1:00 it was entirely within the shadow for one hour and 29 minutes, according to the officials of the naval observatory at Washington.

This was the first total eclipse of the moon since 1913 and was the first that has been completely visible in Daytona since 1910. This year's eclipses of the sun and moon will be the greatest number possible in any one year. There will be four eclipses of the sun and three of the moon. Not since 1787 has this same number occurred and will not happen again until 1982.

A number of residents of this vicinity rose from their slumbers to witness the coincident of the heavens and were well repaid by its beauty.

He plans to stop here again for awhile with his brother, Sam Goldman, manager of the Quality shop, on his return from New York. Mr. Goldman says the season promises to be exceptionally good along the east coast and the Miami hotels are fast filling up with guests.

Two Crops of Lemons.
By an interesting yet simple method two crops of lemons are obtained in Sicily during the year, though the second is in every way inferior. The abnormal fruit is known as the Verdelli lemon, and is marketed during the summer months. The Verdelli lemon, green in color, grows contemporaneously on the same trees with the ordinary or yellow lemon of commerce, and is obtained by the following method: The lemon tree, which flowers in April, is kept without water from that period until July, when the roots are heavily flooded for a time. This results in a second set of blossoms, from which will come the Verdelli lemon. The ordinary lemon crop is picked in the months beginning with October, but the Verdelli lemons do not mature until the next May.

WILBUR BY THE SEA

WILBUR-BY-THE-SEA, Jan. 8.—Captain and Mrs. P. H. Crowell and two charming daughters, Misses Grace and Arietta Crowell, are among the recent arrivals at the Toronita hotel. Capt. Crowell has visited every port in the civilized world but finds Wilbur-by-the-Sea suits his fancy more than any other place and being a property owner will build a pretty winter home in the near future. Capt. Crowell had a large fleet of boats and will be joined by a number of his friends in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bryant, accompanied by their son, Harold, arrived at their bungalow Sunday. Mr. Bryant, who is a cotton broker in Boston, is the postmaster at Wilbur-by-the-Sea, as well as president of the Wilbur improvement society, and has many friends. Harold Bryant, who holds a responsible position with the N. E. Telephone company, is making his first visit to Florida and on arriving here immediately wired for an extension of his leave of absence.

John S. Carr, a director in the J. W. Wilbur Company, Inc., arrived by auto Saturday, and will be joined in a few days by a party of prominent Boston business men, who are on a sight-seeing tour. Mr. Carr, who is also superintendent of the sales department, reports the sale of several desirable house lots to successful business men of Boston and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cobb have gone to Jacksonville to get their auto, and will drive down from that city.

Mrs. James Emery of Boston, arrived at the Toronita hotel Sunday, and as her last visit to this state was twelve years ago, could scarcely realize this locality was so far advanced. Mrs. Emery is the mother of Mrs. F. S. Bryant.

Lester T. Nicolls of Malden, Mass., is among the new arrivals at Wilbur-by-the-Sea.

Among the prominent dinner guests at the Toronita hotel Sunday was A. D. Taylor of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Taylor is considered one of the best informed landscape architects in the United States and expressed himself as being extremely enthusiastic over the future possibilities of Wilbur-by-the-Sea as a southern residence development.

The Wilbur-by-the-Sea stable has some fine Kentucky saddle horses and this sport furnishes great amusement for the visitors.

The Toronita hotel was visited by more auto parties Sunday than ever before and the genial managers, Miss Frances D. Piper, is always pleased to meet sightseers and visitors.

SHORTAGE OF CARS SERIOUS PROBLEM

That the shortage of freight cars may greatly interfere with farmers' supplies of fertilizers, machinery, lime and other necessities is the opinion of the authorities in the business world most competent to judge.

The shortage is increasing at an alarming rate, with no relief in sight. The September shortage of 19,000 cars grew to 60,000 in October, 108,000 in November and close to 150,000 in December. At this rate March will see a lack of more than 300,000 cars annually necessary for moving fertilizers alone.

These figures are authentic and such people as the Armour Fertilizer works, the National Fertilizer association and others see in the situation enough seriousness to warrant their warning their close connections to make every effort to place fertilizer orders early, to make sure of getting any at all. The usual shipping season on fertilizers covers six to eight weeks. The railroads ask that at least three months be given them this year.

One of the country's foremost men is sending out this warning: "Farmers who order their fertilizers early will enable the railroads to move them before the rush season opens and the cars can be unloaded and used several times and for several hauls instead of one. This will help out the railroads, the dealers and the manufacturers and will insure a supply of fertilizers in a year when on account of high prices for farm products fertilizers are going to pay bigger profits on the investment than ever before. The shipping of fertilizers early is of advantage to the farmer in other ways, and early ordering will help everybody."

With food-stuffs prices higher than ever before, a largely increased acreage may be looked for; which means greater demand for fertilizers; which means demand for even more cars than usual. And there are fewer cars than for many years past. Early buying and co-operation with dealers or neighbors to make up maximum carload shipments will help assure fair delivery. But unless growers take prompt and intelligent action to secure delivery without delay on such items as will be needed this spring, they may sit idle and watch the days pass with no crops in the ground. The situation may be unpleasant, but it is an unescapable truth.

Mrs. Hep's Sayings.

"Men is jes like babies in a lotta ways," observed Mrs. Jonathan Hep as she collected cigar ashes, "an' you don't never want to punish 'em before you finds out whether they is actin' up becuz they's mad or jes' becuz they is hungry or some'n is hurtin' 'em."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

INDIA IS TODAY AS PEACEFUL AS U. S.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

SIMLA, India, Dec. 10.—Many stories have appeared at various times to the effect that India was on the verge of an armed revolt. Though the revolution has not materialized, the question of the real attitude of the people still furnishes material for speculation abroad. To all outward appearances the traveler today finds India as peaceful as America, but the waters of sedition run deep and to learn the facts a correspondent of the Associated Press has interviewed many people—American residents, British officials and business men, Indian subjects of varying rank in private life, and conservative and radical Indian politicians, both Mohammedan and Hindu.

The vast majority of the 315,000,000 inhabitants are peace-loving folk who are opposed to all ideas of revolutionary bloodshed. The illiterate class, which forms the bulk of the population, have little or no interest in politics. The educated people of the law-abiding section, whether they be ultra-radical home rule advocates or not, desire to remain a part of the British empire, feeling that the protection of Great Britain is essential to the welfare of India. Most of them look forward to the time when India will occupy a position similar to that of Canada and Australia; many assert India is ready for the change now, but they all hope to achieve their aims by peaceful methods, and in all events do not desire a total severance from England.

There is a certain amount of seditious unrest in various sections but the people who harbor revolutionary ideas are declared to be negligible in number. The cliques are more or less independent of one another and are composed largely of men who have received a smattering of European education. The majority have studied with the idea of entering the government service. Naturally, there are not enough civil service positions to go around, and as these men feel that having acquired polish, they are above returning to the trades of their fathers, they find themselves without means of making a livelihood. For this they blame the government. Idleness brings them together for discussions of their alleged wrongs and they prove fertile ground for the really educated professional agitator to work upon.

Of the totally illiterate people great numbers are still in the primitive state, and their minds operate along the same lines as did those of their ancestors centuries ago. Their thoughts mainly concern their stomachs. If they have enough food to stay their hunger and a place in the sun they are content. The question of who is ruling them does not bother in the least. Many of them undoubtedly never heard of England, or any other place outside of their own little sphere, and it would be difficult to convince them that they ought to rise in arms to oust the governing power.

In a country as vast as India there is always a probability that local troubles may occur. Things are quiet at the moment but it would be unsafe to predict that seditious might not stir up feeling which would result in local disturbances tomorrow. Such events have occurred since the beginning of the war, the most pretentious attempt having been made in the Punjab as the result of a conspiracy developed among the Indian emigrants on the Pacific coast of America, largely in California and Oregon. Between five or six thousand seditious made their way home and into the Punjab where for months they vainly endeavored to cause general disaffection among the Indian troops and the people. There were murders and other outrages but the attempt failed, largely because the people, having no sympathy with the movement, voluntarily turned to the aid of the government and helped arrest many of the offenders.

Aside from internal affairs is the question of the border tribesmen at the north. These are by nature a warlike folk and fighting is their main business. There have been a number of conflicts between them and the government forces since the war began, but it is declared sufficient troops are maintained in that section to deal with any situation.

Optimistic Thought.

Honor is gold but gold and silver are not honor.

Peace Above Passion.

First keep thyself in peace, and then thou wilt be able to bring others to peace. A peaceful man does more good than one that is very learned. A passionate man perverts even good into evil and easily believes evil. A good, peaceable man turns all things to good.—Thomas a Kempis.

The Palmyra Palm.

Though a Tamil poet, enumerates 800 ways in which the Palmyra palm may be used, one of its most interesting uses is the production of a sugar called jaggery. This is the result of boiling down the fresh juice, and is one of the chief sugars of south India. Four or five quarts per tree per day is the yield for four or five months. Once in every three years the sap drawing process is omitted, as otherwise the tree would die. The tree begins to yield at fifteen years and continues for about fifty years. The female tree yields about twice as much sap as the male. Three quarts of this sap make one pound of sugar or jaggery, which is the chief sugar used by the poor classes of India.

JOHN W. DAVIS

John W. Davis, formerly representative from West Virginia, now solicitor general, is looked upon as the most likely successor to United States Attorney General Gregory, who, according to report, will resign in the near future. The solicitor general is forty-three years old, and a graduate of Washington and Lee university.

Safeguarding Locks.

Bill's Peculiarity.

Dinah had not seen her old mistress for two or three years. "For de lan' sake, missy, I sure is glad to see you again! How's all de folks?"

"All just about the same, Dinah; and how is it with you?"

"Oh, we's all 'bout de same, 'cept Bill. You 'members my brudder Bill? The young one you used to give cookies to? Well, he sure has grewed. Lor', missy, you jest ought to see him! So big and tall, folks all think for sure he am older dan what he is."

"Is that so?"

"Yas'm, dat's de livin' trufe. He sure does look older dan what he is; but he ain't."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Optimist

Devoted to Cheering Up the "Land of Sunshine."

(By Gene Jones.)

The following tender story is the "Swan Song" of the "Optimist" who with this issue bids adieu to the readers of this column:

It Happened on the Beach.
He took her on our beach
While the stars were riding high;
She surely was a peach.
'Neath the valuted southern sky.

And such a night for love,
With romance in the air;
The moon looked down above,
Touching silver everywhere.

He took her on the sand—
Dainty, trim and smart—
He felt a fairyland
Closing in about his heart.

Across the breakers' foam
There swooped a phantom gull;
He knew why girls left home;
Why many lives were dull.

Above the sand dunes tips,
So steady, clear and bright,
Shone a beacon to the ships—
Mosquito Inlet light.

He glanced upon her, smiling,
Shamed might Venus be!
The sea, its breath beguiling,
Told of lands across the sea.

He watched each graceful motion,
His throbbing heart kept pace
With the throbbing of the ocean;
A smile was on his face.

The beach stretched out before her,
Empty, level dark;
The time had come to test her,
They were nearing Bostwick park.

He pushed her throttle open far,
He jammed her pedal down;
He knew his car was faster, far!
Than any car in town.

PRaises Work of HUMANE SOCIETY

Dr. E. C. Ross, whose profession and wide experience makes his opinion of exceptional value, wrote the following encouraging letter to the secretary of the Daytona Humane society when forwarding a donation for the work:

"Daytona, Fla., Jan. 3, 1917.
"Benford Deacon, Secretary of Humane society, Daytona, Fla.:

"Dear Sir: I have been a resident of Daytona for several years, and am gratified to see such an improvement in the condition of the animals seen upon our streets, a complete absence of all those unfit for service and those in use in such fine condition.

"I have been connected with both the state and local humane societies of my former northern home and am aware of the amount of time and effort it has taken to bring about such desirable results. The scope of your society, incorporated as it is, gives it a wide field for your efforts in assuring the aged, the indigent and the neglected child, as well as the domestic animals a protection against want, suffering and abuse. It is a noble career and should appeal to all who are intelligent and humane, as a measure to demand their normal and financial support. I trust the society may receive it at all times, to be enabled to continue in its successfully humane endeavors.

"GREY DUCK" VISITS DAYTONA SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sturtevant and friend, Mrs. Davis, of Boston, Mass., stopped for a few hours Saturday and Sunday at the Halifax River Yacht club dock, in their beautiful yacht, the "Grey Duck." The party and its boat left Sunday for Miami.

The Grey Duck is no stranger to Daytona, having touched at this point in four different seasons, while on the way to southern waters. She is 33 feet long, 14 feet beam and draws three feet of water. She was designed and launched by the Murray and Traugott company, at South Boston, Mass., in 1912. Her motive force is made by two six-cylinder, 8-hp 12, Sturtevant engines. She has a displacement of 33 tons and is rigged as a screw steamer. She is a very graceful and seaworthy craft and will spend the next six weeks in Miami and vicinity.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT A DAYTONA VISITOR

Albert D. Taylor, one of the most prominent landscape architects in the United States is passing a few days in Daytona. He is very enthusiastic over the wonderful possibilities in the development of beautiful winter homes, and the city beautiful idea as applied to the laying out of suburban properties for home sites.

Mr. Taylor says "Daytona has the finest opportunity in Florida for homes of character because of its splendid water views and groves of fine, old oaks. The subdividing of land here is but in its infancy. A demand from the refined home seekers of our north will be met with more careful study of the landscape possibilities in the great undeveloped areas."

Having studied extensively throughout the United States and Canada, Mr. Taylor is in a position to judge the comparative results of good design applied to the development of large tracts of property, and he cannot speak too strongly in favor of the curved streets and varied size and shape of lots as providing sites for more attractive homes and more beautiful highways. He says "the conventional checker-board system, which disregards all existing features of interest, provided by nature, is no longer acceptable."

Mr. Taylor when seen last evening at the Princess Isabella said he is now making a tour of Florida where he believes the landscape possibilities are unlimited. He has established a branch of his Cleveland office in the Florida Life building at Jacksonville, where his work will be confined to the study of Florida homes and subdivision developments along the east and west coasts.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting of the directors of the Florida East Coast Automobile association, which was scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until tomorrow evening, on account of the opening of the Hotel Ormond this evening, which several of the directors desired to attend.
